CURTAIN GOES UP TONIGHT ON ANNUAL SENIOR PLAY

From the time the curtain goes up at 8 o'clock tonight on the senior play at Campbell High School until it is lowered at the end of the third and final act, the audience is in for enjoyable entertainment, according to all advance reports.

The three-act comedy drama, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", has been described as the "best stage play to be presented in the past decade by any senior class. The play, directed by Ken Wallace, Campbell High drama instructor, will be presented both tonight and tomorrow night.

The play based on the best-selling book by Cornelia Otis Skinner, is highly rated by drama critics. The book sold more than 750,000 copies and the three-act play was written by Jean Kerr and was first produced in Washington, D. C. in 1942.

The comedy drama deals with the activities and adventures of two American girls, circa 1920, who were visiting Paris. Sherry Robinson has the lead in the local production, playing the part of Cornelia Otis Skinner. Sue Menger (pictured above) plays the part of Emily Kimbrough, Cornelia's comrade-in-arms on the ocean voyage and subsequent visit of Paris.

Ernie Pope, high school French teacher, has assisted in the coaching in order to get the correct French expression and Neal Cavanaugh, who plays the part of Monsieur De La Croix, has perfected his French accent for the production. Young Cavanaugh, with spats, striped pants and all has taken his difficult role in stride.

Mrs. Skinner, Cornelia's mother, is played by Mary Friedman and Bob Young, Mr. Skinner, who "rescue" their daughter from time to time during the play. Ken Honda is the steward and Steve Jansen is the ship's purser while Pat Guteirrez has the role of stewardess.

Gerald Todd (pictured above) as the admiral, is the first handsome man the girls fall for while Carole Hansen and Carol Young are two very nervy English girls who barge into the two American girls' stateroom at any time.

Mary Munson is the health inspector and Laurie Hammonds has the part of a French maid.

Gail Robertson is the middle-aged mother of the French maid while Les Hinz and Jerry Sutton are two Harvard medical students who also aid in getting the two girls out of trouble.

Assisting Wallace in the direction is Lynne Schaper, drama commissioner, assisted by Sharon Lantz and Rich Stuart.

The sets include an interior of a cabin aboard ship and the interior of a hotel room in Paris. Every effort has been made to obtain authentic costumes of the vintage of 1920. Campbell attics have been ransacked as the students searched for clothes and other items that would turn the clock back to the "roaring twenties".

The high school orchestra will play before and after the play and during both intermissions. Their numbers include, "South American Overture", "Begin the Beguine", "The Gold and Silver Waltz" and "Dream of Olwen" with Steve Janzen with the solo at the piano.

A bad check and forgery ring for this area apparently was broken this week with the arrest of Luther (Red Dog) Dodson, 70 Gilman and Jack Doyle Smothermon of San Jose. Dodson pleaded guilty to passing three forged checks at the Towne Pride, Double AA and Big Boy markets. He will appear for probation hearing at a later date. Chief Robert L. Locke and Officer Dick Mayne made the arrests. In another similar case, Willis Dean French will be sentenced tomorrow on a forgery charge to which he pleaded guilty.

HAMILTON 'JOG' GETS O.K.

Without a dissenting vote from the five commissioners who were present, the much discussed "Hamilton "jog" was finally adopted by the Campbell Planning Commission Thursday night before a packed house.

The action by the Commission brought to the end the controversy of several months duration of whether Hamilton Ave., between the proposed Freeway (Route 5) exit near Central Ave., and Winchester Road, should be straight when it is eventually widened to 120-feet or should it have an offset of 15-feet in the distance of 400-feet. This "jog" would save the city approximately $50,000 because only houses on one side of the street would have to be moved. A straight road would mean the moving of houses on both sides.

By the shift to the south 15-feet 12 houses on the north side of the street will not be affected. The action by the Commission acts as a "freeze" only at the present time, Elmer D'Angelo, assistant city engineer, told the group. It prevents construction of a permanent nature in the right-of-way required for the street, thus saving the city money when the entire area is needed for the thoroughfarce.

No Moving Now

At the present time, D'Angelo explained, an expenditure of approximately $114,100 is needed to widen Hamilton to 86-feet and this project will not require any house-moving, except for one house on Winchester Road which already has been purchased.

Before the Commissioners took their action, considerable discussion took place, instigated by Commissioner Kenneth Priestley, over whether it was necessary to have a 120-foot width street. Priestley wondered why a more narrow width could not be established.

A number of residents in the affected area were present at the meeting which was held at the Country Woman's Club rather than at the fire house because of the large number attending. Some of those present wanted to open the discussion to include how their individual homes would be affected. Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, however, ruled that the problem facing the Commission was simply whether the proposed plan line should be adopted and had nothing to do with rights-of-way and engineering problems.

With that cleared up, the Commission proceeded to vote on the motion by Sam O'Brien to adopt the "jog". All five of the commissioners, O'Brien, Priestley, Chairman Homer Hyde, T. R. Solari and J. A. Tomlinson, favored it. Commissioners Hollis Logue and Les Harmon were absent.

The Commissioners ran into difficulty on another motion later on, when they took up the question of the application of William Ammon for a zone change on property at 120 W. Campbell to allow a multiple dwelling on the location. This matter had been under advisement from the previous meeting when the motion to deny lacked a 4/5 majority.

Three Motions

It actually took three motions before the Commission finally denied the motion for the zone change without prejudice. On Commissioner Solari's first motion, Tomlinson abstained and Priestley voted "no" making it a 3 to 1 count which disturbed the group because of the 4/5 rule on most questions. After more discussion, a new motion cleared the decks for a repeat on the original act. This time Solari's motion got Priestley's o. k. as well as Tomlinson.

The Commission, through Chairman Hyde, emphasized that, although it was turning down the applicatioon because it was "spot-zoning", it might grant a zone-change for a larger area in the vicinity, should petitions be received. Hyde also indicated that should the petitions call for a new street through the rear of the deep lots, the bottleneck, which had held up prior plans for the development of that area as well as that on Rincon Ave, as proposed by Richard Salice, could possibly be broken. Ammon, owner of the property, told the commission that petitions would be circulated encompassing a larger area.

Cover and Fill

In other actions:

The Commission continued under advisement for two weeks more the application of George Bumb for a cover and fill dump on Los Gatos Creek. At the next meeting a full report of the proposed operation with recommendations from the health and engineer departments will be made.

The Commission also approved the request of Barrett to call a meeting of public utility and post office department representatives and other affected organizations to work out an efficient method of carrying out the new house-numbering program for Campbell which will be adopted Monday by the City Council.

At the April 5 meeting of the Commission a report will also be made on the possible change of zone for the west side of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road between Campbell and Hamilton aves.

No action was taken on this matter Thursday. A petition signed by 126 residents has requested this area be changed from its present M-1-S zone. The City Council has also asked that the Commission make a study of the area with the idea in mind of changing the present zone.

CHAMBER NEEDS MEMBERS NOW

All potential members of the revitalized Campbell Chamber of Commerce, who have been notified by letter of of the new membership classifications and the chambers program for the year, will be billed for their membership dues next week, Milton Nelson, C. of C. president reported this week.

"To carry out the ambitions program as outlined in our first letter", Nelson said, "We need the cooperation and the financial help from all business and professional people in this area. Please remit your dues immediately, so we can carry on with the work that has already been started by Sam Cava, your manager."

The Chamber faces a grave financial crisis, because of its depleted treasury. It was inactive for more than six months. On February 1, Cava was employed as full-time secretary-manager.

The C. of C. is sponsoring the Old Settlers' Day celebration; now contacting industries for possible location here; is assisting in arranging for annexations of new areas to the city and plans to cooperate with the City Council in every way for the community betterment.

KIWANIANS HEAR SYMPHONIC BAND AT HIGH SCHOOL

There was music in the air as members of the Campbell Kiwanis Club adjourned their luncheon meeting Tuesday, first day of Spring, and rode in a bus to the Campbell High School auditorium where Bill Perkins and his High School Symphonic band had a group of special numbers ready for the club. Sam Reed was program chairman.

Perkins introduced officers and leaders of the orchestra as:

Don Carre, student director; Monte Nielsen, president; Larry Weber, vice-president; Donna Lenz, secretary; Gail Williamson, librarian; Robert Longuevan, drum major. Section leaders are Art Hill, clarinets; Don Peterson, trumpets; Pat McClenahan, trombones and Larry Weber, percussion. There are 58 members in the orchestra.

High School guest of the club was Janet Costello. Special guests were Charles Thompson and Robert Poen, the former being owner of the new swim pool just opened on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road, former site of the Chinchilla farm. The latter is manager and operator of the enterprise here.

L. E. (Bill) Means introduced William Geisler who is to be pharmacist at the new Campbell Drug and Pharmacy on Winchester Road.

Crack Marine Band To March In Parade

"The Marines have landed!"

That's the way William Perkins, co-chairman of the music committee for Old Settlers' Day, reported this week that the first out-of-town band had notified the committee that it would appear here for the parade on Saturday, May 5.

The parade will be the main attraction of the three day celebration which opens with a melodrama presented by the "Footlighters" on Friday night at the high school auditorium and will close with a program honoring the mothers of the community on Sunday, May 6, just a week prior to Mother's day.

The first out of town band to respond to the invitation to take part in the parade was the crack U. S. Marine Corps, Department of Pacific 45-piece outfit directed by Chief Warrant Officer Daryl G. Sheehan. Five other bands, including both the Campbell High School and Campbell Grammar School groups, have also agreed to appear as Los Gatos High School, San Jose High School, and the Banner School of Sunnyvale have already signed up.

In the meantime, the other committees working on the 64th annual observance of Old Settlers' Day, the second oldest event of its kind in California, under the direction of George Kemp general chairman, and Sam Cava, secretary manager of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring organization, have started to fnuction.

Chairman Kemp has called a meeting of the general committee for tonight in the I. O. O. F. Hall, on Campbell Ave., at 8 o'clock when further details for the celebration will be worked out. A progress report is expected from every sub-committee and a general discussion on plans for the affair will take place.

One of the special features of this year's celebration will be the choosing of the "Mother of the Year" for Campbell. She will be honored at 3 p. m. on Sunday at a special program. Each organization in the area has been notified by Mrs. Sara Blue, chairman of the mother selection committte, to nominate their choice for this honor. Nomination papers must be returned to the Chamber of Commerce office by April 23.

Orrin Accardi, chairman of the queen contest, this week announced that each organization in the community has also been requested to nominate a girl, between the ages of 17 and 25, for queen o fthe three-day event. The winning candidate will be selected on the basis of receiving the most votes with the four girls with the next highest votes her attendants.

Based on Ticket Sales

Votes will be obtained on the basis of ticket sales to the melodrama on Friday night presented by the "Footlighters". The queen will also receive a trophy and a special wardrobe for the occasion and with her attendants will ride in a float in the parade. Closing date for counting the votes received will also be April 23. The queen committee is cooperating with the entertainment committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Legg, representing the "Footlighters."

Norman Corvello, chairman of the dance committee, reported this week that he has requested Hunt Foods, Inc. to allow the cannery on Harrison Ave. to be used for the square dance on Saturday night. The barnlike structure, Corvello explains, makes an ideal setting for the square dance and will be decorated appropriately for the occasion using the Old Settler theme. It will accommodate between 600 and 700 people.

DRIVE LAGS

Howard Lillingston, Campbell area chairman of the current Red Cross campaign, reported this week that 36 per cent of Campbell quota has been collected to date. He said that 25 per cent of the area has reported.

Persons wishing to contribute some of their spare time to assist in collecting, may contact Major Lillingston at 273 East Campbell Ave., or phoning FRanklin 8-2494.

Democrats Rally Here Tonight

Dr. William Vatcher, assistant professor of political science at San Jose State College, and Democratic candidate for Congress, will speak to Campbell Democrats and explain his platform at their kick-off rally at Rosemary School at 8 tonight. All interested persons are invited to attend.

William Harris, Democratic candidate in the 29th Assembly District, will be the other speaker at the meeting.

Mrs. Barbara Lawless will preside at the meeting.

Refreshments will follow the program.

SALES TAX ICE BREAKS

Two proposals on Monday of this week for sharing revenues of a county-wide penny sales tax were presented to the Board of Supervisors by the cities in the county.

The Supervisors took the matter under advisement and with prodding by Campbell's mayor, Richard Morton, promised to be ready next week to accept or reject the proposals.

Thus the stalemate between the cities and county appear to be broken and, if the Supervisors agree to the cities' compromise, the uniform sales tax may take effect on July 1.

The meeting on Monday was the first held on the subject between the two groups. The county previously had indicated it wanted a 25 per cent cut while the cities felt that there should be no split

Rotarians Hear 'Racket' Talk

"Stop That Racket", a discussion on various "rackets" being carried on in this country and their surprising success, was the subject of the talk by Wes Strouse of San Jose Better Business Bureau at Campbell Rotary Club meeting last Monday.

Strouse also gave some pointers on how to detect unscrupulous rackets and told members what to do when confronted by promoters of various schemes.

The club's annual anniversary party will be held Monday night at the Red Coach Inn in Los Gatos.

Members of the Knights of Columbus in this area plan to take part in the county wide blood drive sponsored by the KC's next Monday at St. Claire's Park, Santa Clara, from 3:30 to 7:30 p. m.

City To Establish Fire Zones

Adoption of the proposed fire zones for Campbell could possibly save the city from a major conflagration.

This was revealed this week when the fire zoning plan was described by the two city department heads chiefly responsible for its operation.

What the establishment of the proposed fire zones in the City of Campbell means to the average resident, as well as to any manufacturer that might locate here, was explained by Jack Scott Campbell Fire Chief, and W. L (Bud) Morser, building inspector. Both these city departments have an interest in the proper fire zoning. The building inspector's office is responsible for checking all construction in the city while the fire department is vitally interested in both fire and fire hazards.

Establishment of fire zones is mandatory, the two city officials point out, because of the adoption recently by reference of the uniform building code. The code defines fire zones and directs the City Council to create fire districts by ordinance, specifying zones 1-2-3.

"All buildings within a city or community, whether existing or to be erected, are classified in groups from "A" to "J" or ten groups, according to occupancy. Each occupancy must have certain requirements as to separation and wall openings" . . . That's the way the code spells it out.

Occupancy Is Basis

Occupancy is the main basis for the establishment of the zones. According to Chief Scott and Morser, these occupancies are grouped into five types of construction, each calling for certain restrictions. Under the fire zones, each new building, as well as existing structures, will be placed in certain zones with each zone specifying a different type of construction.

How does this zoning affect the present home-owner?

Zones 1 and 2 are the strictest zones and no residence could be erected in them. However, if a residence already exists, it may be repaired as a dwelling but if any alterations or changes in occupancy takes place, the building must be made to comply with the requirements of the fire zone in which it is located.

Thus the adoption of fire zones will not cost the home-owner any extra money, unless alterations take place. Morser maintaines that actually the buildings and property will become more valuable by requiring better construction, for it is conceivable that the fire tax rate could drop and thus the fire insurance cost could be lowered.

Already Zoned

Because the City of Campbell is already zoned as to manufacturing, light industry, commercial and residential areas, it is planned to follow these general lines in outlining the fire zones, the building inspector, points out. Under the master zoning plan as adopted, no residence may be erected in an industrial or manufacturing zone.

In brief," Morser explains, "all we are asking for is that the building code be followed as to fire zoning based on the occupancise of the structures and that all new construction can be placed in the proper categories."

Chief Scott explains that a fire in Zone 1, as a rule, generally calls for all appartus to move to it while in Zone 3 (residential) much less equipment is genearlly needed.

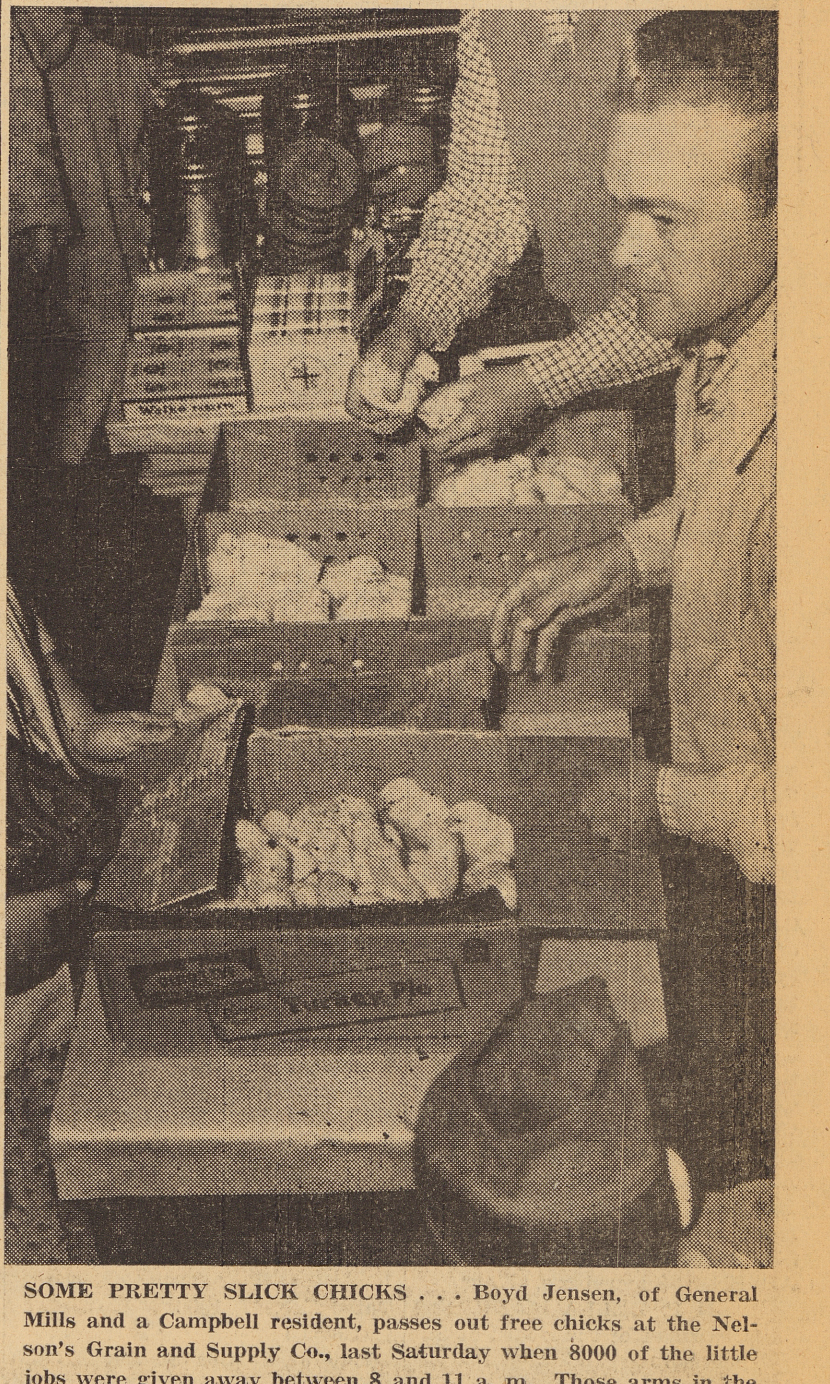
"Today," the chief points out, "all five types of buildings and all 10 occupancy categories are mixed together. By future planning and proper fire zoning, a uniform type of structure in a properly zoned territory will result."

Lower Rates Maybe

According to Scott, the Board of Fire Underwriters charges each city with deficiency points based on fire department equipment, water and other points. Among these points that are checked by the undewriters are proper zoning and fire prevention.

The number of deficiency points determines the class from 1 to 10 in which the National Board of Underwriters places a city. Campbell at the present time is in Class 6. Scott feels that it is possible that the city could obtain a Class 5 or even a 4 (and thus a decrease in fire insurance rates), if the fire zoning ordinance is adopted.

The heads of the two city departments sincerely believe that the adoption of the fire zoning plan will make for a better arranged city, more easily protected by the fire department. It is conceivable, they claim, that a major conflagration could be prevented because the more hazardous construction would be confined to its proper area.—G. V.



SOME PRETTY SLICK CHICKS . . . Boyd Jensen, of General Mills and a Campbell resident, passes out free chicks at the Nelson's Grain and Supply Co., last Saturday when 8000 of the little jobs were given away between 8 and 11 a. m. Those arms in the background belong to Milt Nelson of the firm who was lending a hand at the time. If you look closely, you will note that the box filled with chicks is labeled "turkey pie". Wonder how the slick chicks liked that.—Campbell Press photo.

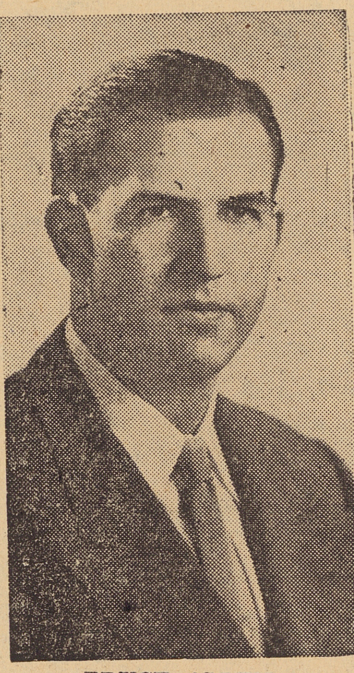
Assemblyman Bruce Allen Files For Reelection on Both Party Tickets



BRUCE ALLEN
. . . Seeks Re-election

Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen, incumbent, 29th District, of which Campbell is a part, today cross-filed for re-election to his third term on both Republican and Democratic tickets.

This Spring, Allen was chosen as one of the top ten outstanding legislators among 80 assemblymen in an opinion poll conducted among Capitol newsmen.

In the assembly, he is Chairman of the Social Welfare Committee and a member of four other committees including Conservation Planning and Public Works; Judiciary; Ways and Means; and Education, as well as the Joint Interim Committee on Water Problems.

Through his work directly with Division of Highways, he has succeeded in getting the pavement widened and signals installed at the "death-trap" intersections of San Jose-Los Gatos Road at Moorpark and Hamilton avenues, and the same work is now in progress at Campbell and Union avenue intersections.

Among the great bulk of successful legislation which he iniated or supported is his "AB1" which removed school districts from annexation battles; "Greenbelt" legislation to protect farm zones between cities; bills providing for widening of highways and completion of freeways, such as Route 5 to Los Gatos; increased benefits for unemployment and disability insurance; improved state care for the needy, aged and blind, and bills protecting public welfare funds from chiselers.

In 1955 he helped co-sponsor a completely new approach to the solution of California water problems by financing on a "pay-as-you-go" basis with low water prices, no bond issue and no interest charges. This plan has been endorsed by such groups as the Calif. Democratic Council, Calif. Farm Bureau Federation, and SC County Board of Supervisors.

A native of San Jose, Allen attended San Jose State College and received his law degree from University of California. He served five years in the Army and is now a Major in the Field Artillery. Since 1941, with the exceptioon of Army duty, he has been engaged in law practice in San Jose.

Allen and his wife, Darrella, have three sons: Roger, 11; Richard, 7, and Douglas, 2½: The family, along with a pet donkey, "Juanita", live on Thompson Road near Los Gatos.

Merchants Slate Kids' Penny Hunt

Merchants on Meridian Road at the corner of Hamilton Ave. are sponsoring a penny hunt for children this year, instead of the usual Easter egg hunt. A haystack is being set up in the parking area in front of the row of shops, loaded with pennies.

As an added incentive, each merchant will paint some of the pennies a certain color, and the child who finds a colored penny may redeem the penny at the store represented, for a gift for his mother.

In order to give all children a fair chance, certain hours have been set aside for different age groups. Kids from 8 to 12 years will start off with a half hour hunt, from 9:30 to 10. The 5 to 7 year group will have an hour, from 10 to 11, and toddlers, 4 years and under will have the 11 to 12 hour.

Wolf Drug Co., Kearn's Variety, Lederman Florist, Graham's Creamery, Lia's Fashions, and Horton's Mens Wear are merchants participating in the penny hunt, also Avila's Market, "kitty-corner" to the shop center, on Hamilton Ave.

Grange Backs Traffic Safety Resolution

At the last meeting of Orchard City Grange, a resolution was adopted to support the "Thelma Rhoten Resolution" designed to reduce traffic violations and highway accidents which was reported to be highly successful in reducing traffic fatalities in the state of Washington.

Past Master Herbert Shadle read excerpts from a recent issue of "Reader's Digest" which described the method adopted in Washington.

The group also decided they will again operate a booth during the coming Old Settlers' Day celebration.

Ladies of Mt. Hamilton degree team performed initiation of nine candidates in the Grange's third and fourth degrees. Mmes Virginia Rutherford and Lucille Hoerler presented a number of vocal duets during the ceremony. Master Clifford Fortin of Mt. Hamilton Grange introduced members of the degree team.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served in the banquet hall. Hostess was Mrs. Jessie McChesney, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKenzie and Mr. and Mrs. Neal William Nelson.

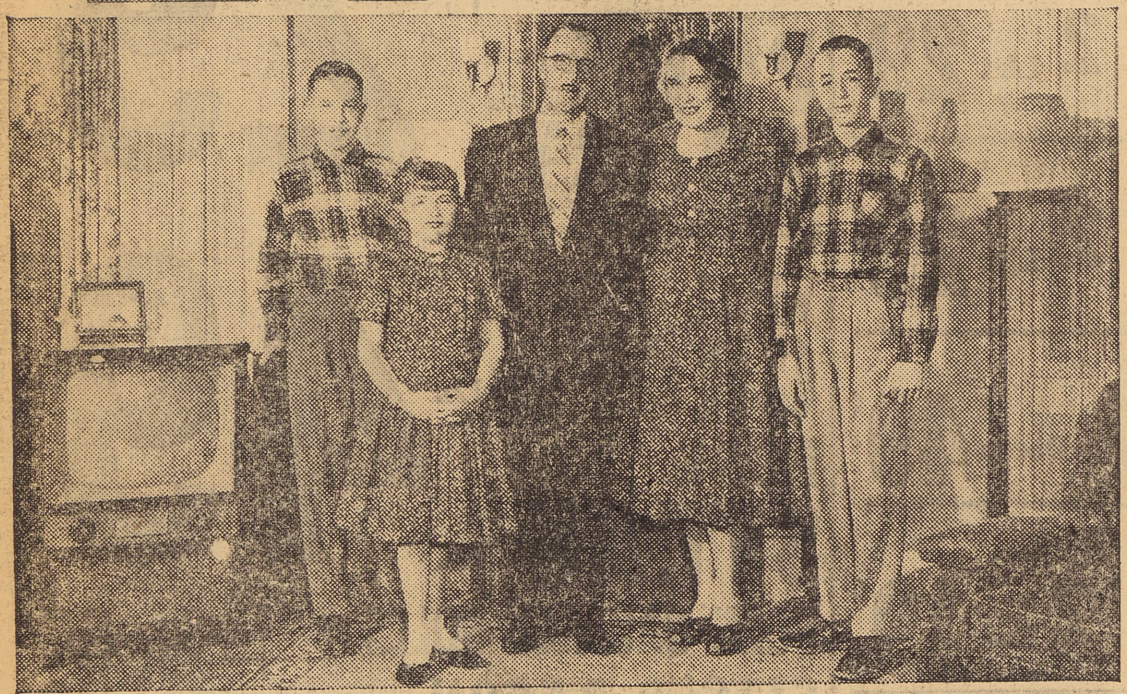
Meet the Jewetts who set up housekeeping in Eureka in 1936

20 YEARS AGO—when Fred and Mary Jewett were married, they had just 7 appliances: range, waffle iron, water heater, iron, toaster, radio, clock.

TODAY—their inviting home has 25 appliances, including: range, refrigerator, washer and dryer, toaster, coffee maker, waffle iron, 2 clothes irons, corn popper, mixer, vacuum cleaner, vacuum broom, television, radio-phonograph, 2 radios, 3 clocks, infra-red lamp, sewing machine, power saw, water heater and furnace.



Today they buy $22 worth of gas and electricity for $13

...for the average unit price is far less today than it was in 1936

Surprised at all the appliances the Jewetts have bought since they were married? Then count up all the appliances you've added through the years ... and chances are you'll find your own story is pretty much the same. In fact, if you're like the average California family, you're using three times as much gas and electricity today as twenty years ago. Naturally, all this extra gas and electricity is bound to increase your bill. But it's far lower than it would have been twenty years back. That's because P. G. and E. now charges far less per unit, on the average, than it did in 1936. Take the Jewetts: a month or so ago their bill came to only $13.23. Twenty years ago the same amount of gas and electricity would have cost them $22.35! You're probably making similar savings yourself.

Can you think of anything else in your budget that actually costs you far less today than it did twenty years ago? No wonder we say ...

Gas and Electricity are cheap in California!

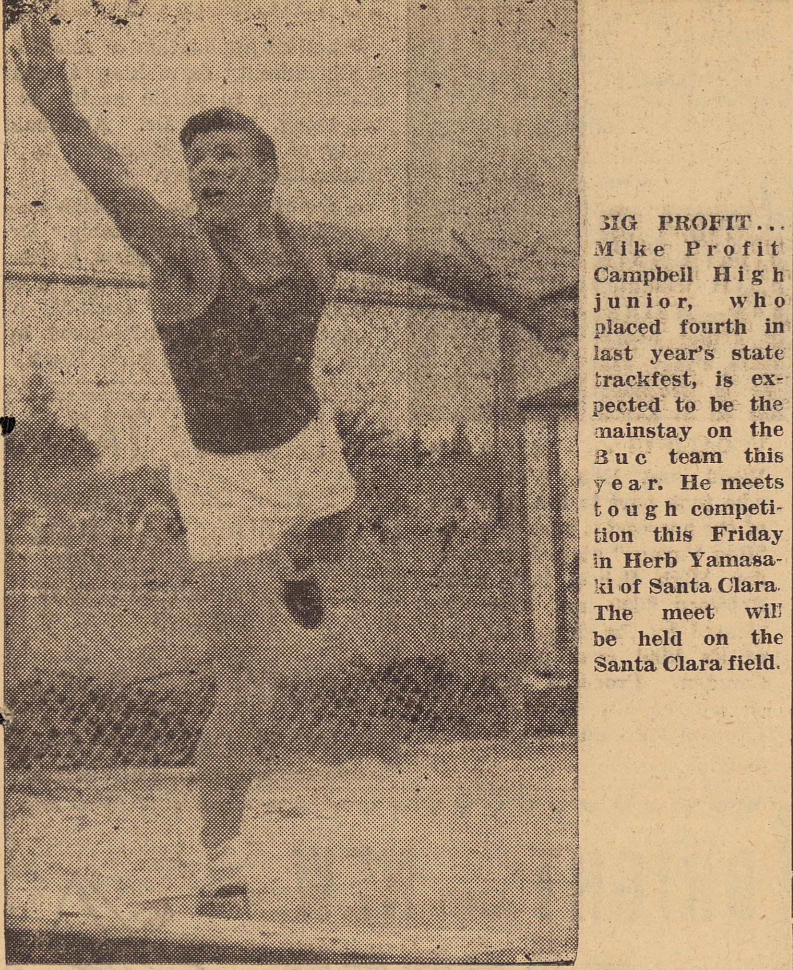
BUCS MEET SANTA CLARA



BIG PROFIT... Mike Profit Campbell High junior, who placed fourth in last year's state trackfest, is expected to be the mainstay on the Buc team this year. He meets tough competition this Friday in Herb Yamasaki of Santa Clara. The meet will be held on the Santa Clara field.

Two high school shot-putting stars will feature the track and field meet at Santa Clara this Friday afternoon when Campbell and its close neighbor tangle in the dual Santa Clara Valley Athletic league get-together.

Mike Profit, Campbell junior faces a tough customer in Herb Yamasaki who tossed the shot 52 ft. 1½ in. against Los Gatos last week while Profit was putting the pellet 53 ft. ¼ in. against Washington. Mike won fourth place in the state meet last year as a sophomore with a heave of 56 ft.-7½ in.

Campbell turned back Washington 101-21 in the first round of the SCVAL dual meets last Friday at the local field while Santa Clara was nipping Los Gatos 66-56.

The Bucs are favored to win tomorrow's meet but the Santa Clara Panthers are improving as the season progresses and could easily give the local cinder burners and field men a run for their money.

James Lick is the defending SCVAL champion. Last year's champs dropped their first track tussle when Bellarmine 65-48 but expect to take Mountain View this Friday afternoon.

Campbell trackmen dominated the league in the first round. Monty Nielsen with 10.5 in the 100-yard dash and 23.3 in the 220 headed the speedsters. Charles Cardona had the best time (54.9) in the 440 and the Buc relay team came through with 1:35.7. Sweet heads the broad-jumpers with 20 ft. 6-in; and Bill Kinsey with 11-feet is top vaulter so far.

And, of course, Profit is No. 1 boy in the shot with his 53 ft. 1/4" heave.

BUC NINE OPENS LEAGUE

Campbell High School Bucs, co-champions of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League, opens loop play this afternoon against their arch-rivals, Los Gatos, on the local field.

Coach Mel Stein, who piloted Campbell last year to its only league championship since the circuit was formed, plans to start his star hurler, Bob Sutton, in what promises to be the usual hard-playing battle.

The Campbell team thus far this season has shown a number of rough spots and with only four first stringers back from last year's squad, the going is expected to be a trifle rough today.

The Bucs, behind the one-hit pitching of Sutton last year, defeated Los Gatos 10 to 0 but this year the story might be different.

Last year's sparkling diamond cavorters set a new school record in won and lost by ringing up 12 victories to 7 losses. The Bucs lost to Santa Clara only last year and defeated co-champion Fremont by 3 to 1 count.

If John Magliocco, Buc leftfielder, who bats in the clean-up spot finds his batting eye at the plate, Campbell should do o. k with the help of Frank Koontz third-base, with the stick.

Matt Musladin, centerfielder who has been doing a good job at bat also this season so far will be in the lead-off spot this afternoon Matt so far this season leads his teammates in runs batted in, stolen bases, walks and runs.

Musladin, Labarbera Pace Locals to Win Over Rams

Led by Matt Musladin and Dave Labrabera the Bucs topped the Willow Glen Rams 7 to 5 after trailing 5 to 0 on the Ram diamond last Friday.

Matt picked up three hits in four trips, one of these a double, and he got three RBIs and two runs. Dave hit the longes shot of the afternoon, a homerun, while getting one for three, and two RBIs, and two runs. Jerry Sutton hit a triple in his four tripe and two RBIs, Tom Perry and Mike Brown each picked up one hit.

The winning pitcher was Roger Almquist who relieved Mike Brown in the fifth. Mike allowed three hits, four walks and five runs while striking out one in his four innings. Roger struck out four, and allowed no hits, no walks and no runs in the final three innings.

TRYOUT CAMP SLATED

Joint sponsorship of a three-day baseball tryout camp to be held in San Jose Municipal Stadium, April 3, 4, 5, was announced yesterday by officials of the San Jose Josox and the Eugene Emeralds. The camp will be held in conjunction with the spring training of the two teams and will be presided over by representatives of the clubs.

BUCS LOSE TO LINCOLN

Wayne Thush smashed a home run with one on and two outs in the last half of the last inning to give the Lincoln Lions a 5to 4 edge over the Bucs in a non-league game played on the Lincoln diamond last Tuesday.

Matt Musladin hit two for four with two runs, Dave Labarbera two for three with one run, Carl Carlentini one for one, Jerry Sutton one for two with one run, John Magliocco one for three, Pete Catellanos two for three and Bob Uttoa one for three to pick up the ten hits for Campbell as compared to eight for the Lions. One of Pete's hits was a triple for the longest hit of the Buc slate.

Bob Ulloa, the losing pitcher, didn't walk any, struck out four, gave up eight hits and five runs as he went the seven innings for the locals.

The Bucs took a two run lead in the first and added two more in the second to get off to a good start. The Lions scored two in the fifth, one in the sixth and won the game on Thush's homer in the last inning.

Among the more earthquake-resistant building materials is reinforced concrete.

MAGLIOCCO SLAMS BALL

Paced by John Magliocco who got two hits in two trips to bat the Bucs of Campbell downed the San Leandro Varsity Baseballers 3 to 1 on the Campbell diamond last Wednesday.

Bob Sutton pitched the whole seven innings and in so doing gave up five hits, four walks and one run while striking out ten. Also high in the batting column was Dave Labarbera with two for two, Matt Musladin two for three, and Frank Koontz two for three to pace the Locals to their eight hits as compared to five for the visitors.

San Leandro's only run came in the last inning while the Bucs broke into the scoring for two in the fourth and their third in the sixth.

Local High School Future Farmers Enter Stock in Big Cow Palace Show

High School students from this area will be well represented at the 1956 Grand National Junior Livestock Exposition at the San Francisco Cow Palace, March 24-28. Of the 30 Santa Clara County Future Farmers of America, who have entered livestock in the event, 11 are from Camden High and three are from Campbell High.

The three from Campbell are, Bruce Holmes, three hogs; Delbert Herschback, one hog, one Guernsey and Arthur Erwin, one Angus steer.

From Camden are, Joe Rice, one hog; Larry Lindsay, two hogs; Mel Burrow, two hogs; Dennis Petrea one lamb; Darrell Bese, one lamb; Bob Aso, one lamb; Bobby McClendon, one lamb; Dale Waddington. one lamb; Leon Franks, one hog; Joe Conetto, one lamb; Allen Griffith, one lamb; and Ira Hull, one hog.

The show is devoted exclusively to 4-H Club members and Future Farmers of America and is the largest such show in the nation, with nearly 50 counties in Oregon, Nevada and California represented each season.

Last year's record entry lists of exhibitors and livestock proved almost too much for the Cow Palace. To prevent possible overcrowding this year, officials have instituted stricter eligibility requirements, including a more careful sifting of stock. This year 1087 youngsters have entered 2576 head of prize beef and dairy cattle, lambs and market hogs.

Another new policy calls for the naming of "best of breeds" champions. This will be the first time in its ten-year history that the Junior Show will award such championships.

Other features are the American River Riders, junior mounted drill team champions from Carmichael, Calif., and three top acts from the famed Glenn Randall Stables of Hollywood.

Also scheduled for the three arena shows are the world's biggest greased pig scrambles, with 4-H and FFA youngsters competing in two events. Arena shows will be held on Saturday and Sunday, March 24-25 at 2 p. m., and on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

SCHOLARSHIP EXAM SLATED

Bay Area graduating high students and junior college transfers will compete for Chapman College scholarships ranging in value up to $550 in an examination at Oakland's First Christian Church at 3 p. m. Saturday.

Scholarship winners will be able to use their grants in any of the 23 fields in which this four-year liberal arts college at Orange, California, offers a major.

State Lists Tax-Deeded Land Held in County

Tax-deeded land held by the State as of January 1, 1956, included 280,680 acres and 106,996 lots, Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller announced this week.

"This represents a decrease of approximately 20 percent in tax deeded acres and 6 percent in tax-deeded lots held by the State i 1954," said Kirkwood. "One function of the Controller's office is tc supervise administration of laws relating to delinquency in payment of real property taxes to the local agencies.

"The decrease is in line with our objectives to return tax-delinquent and tax-deeded property to the local tax rolls."

The Controller's inventory listed Santa Clara County as having 257 acres and 131 lots held by the State.

EDITORIAL

IT'S WORTH THE INCONVENIENCE

On Monday night the Campbell City Council is expected to give the final reading to the new house and building numbering ordinance. Approximately 30 days later it will become law.

Recognizing that there is going to be a certain amount of inconvenience for all concerned, The City Council has granted a 60-day grace period so that residents and business people can make the changeover without too much disruption.

Plans also call for conferences with the various public utilities affected and the post office department, as well as other agencies in the community, to work out an efficient method of putting the new numbering plan in operation.

We sincerely hope that the residents and business people will cooperate during this transition period.

We feel that no purpose will be served by stubbornly refusing to make the necessary change in the digits.

There are plenty of laws we can cite that we dislike. In many cases we are hard pressed to find any merit in them. But we feel that, despite the inconvenience that the renumbering deal will cause, the advantages far outweigh the nuisance.

It will finally establish a uniform system that has a definite starting point, i.e., Winchester Road and Campbell Ave. New subdivisions that have gone numberless will now be able to have proper numerical designation.

Authorities maintain that this new system will be able to expand along with the community which has been impossible under the present system.

Granted that there are some areas in the community that are operating efficiently under the present system, there are many more sections of the town in which a haphazard issuance of numbers has made it almost a useless means for locating houses.

The new system will greatly assist both the police and fire departments in their operation. These departments will be able to pinpoint the addresses they are seeking from their master plan. Under the present system, guesswork of necessity plays too big a part. Saving time in finding an address is often of utmost importance for both the police and fire departments.

May we reiterate that we know the new plan will inconvenience us all, but we feel that the ultimate goal is worth it.

OBJECT IN PRINCIPLE

Last week the Press advocated in an editorial that the Campbell City Council should protest every annexation move on the part of the City of San Jose.

The County Boundary Commission notifies the various cities whenever a proposed annexation from the octopus is pending. The cities then are given the opportunity to protest. These protests have meant nothing, however, in the past—and have not deterred San Jose one iota.

The policy of the Campbell City Council has been to protest only when a San Jose annexation directly affects a so-called Campbell sphere of influence. In other cases, the notification from the Boundary Commission is merely filed.

We maintain that the local City Council should go on record opposing EVERY annexation on the part of San Jose whether or not a "sphere" is infringed upon.

We call it objecting in principle.

We think it is unnecessary to accept apathetically the inevitable.

We are firmly convinced that San Jose's methods of expanding its territory are unethical, undemocratic, unprincipled, and unwarranted.

No one can convince us that these "fingers" that stretch out and these strips that cut through serve any useful purpose.

On the contrary, we feel that this annexation policy on the part of San Jose is economically unsound and eventually will work a hardship on the entire area.

What advantage can there possibly be for one caught i n one of these fingers or strips? Surely not tax-wise, for San Jose's city tax is higher than most other cities.

There is not one justification for most of this new type of "strip tease". We are convinced that eventually the residents caught in the San Jose net will suffer for it.

Someone said after last week's editorial that such protests would lose their effectiveness because they would be without basis.

We feel that San Jose's attitude provides basis enough.

Just object in principle . . . period.

THE WORM TURNS

The Campbell Press garnered a great deal of satisfaction out of the "spread" and story complete with pictures that a San Jose daily gave a Campbell resident on Monday of this week.

The daily devoted a good portion of the front page of its second section to Paul Marcuson of 716 White Oaks Road and his newly developed fish worm vending machine.

The San Jose paper "covered" the situation very nicely, we thought, except for one small point which the story failed to mention.

The Campbell Press just two weeks previously had published the same story, also with pictures. In this case, the worm did turn.

We are happy to be of service to our daily contemporary—any time.

OUT on the LIMB

George Vierhus

Just recently Chief of Police Bob Locke released his local "crime" report for 1955. The report indicated that the local gendarmes had kept plenty busy during the year.

Bob reported that the local police had handled 399 cases during the year, of which burglaries headed the list with 30. There were just six disorderly conduct arrests, 34 common drunke and 28 cases of drunk driving. These cases were exclusive of the 1397 traffic violations listed.

The department made 97 adult arrests and 30 juveniles were opprehended. There were 18 cases of forgery and fraud.

We published the report a couple of weeks ago and were impressed by the number of cases taken care of by the four officers and chief with the assistance of the auxiliary police.

We thought it indicated that Campbell had a quiet year as far as crime was concerned.

But from what we have heard things weren't always that quiet in Campbell.

Maybe some of the tales of past escapades have been exaggerated to a degree for our benefit but the stories we have heard certainly have revealed that the cops a number of years ago were kept pretty busy in certain sections of the town.

Most of these incidents occurred apparently while Campbell was still county territory and we still hear rumblings in other quarters about Campbell's reputation gained during that period.

There are some distinct advantages to balance the disadvantages of arriving late on the scene as we have.

True we are having to learn the background of the community the hard way but at the same time maybe we are skipping some of the less desirable aspects of local history.

From a newspaper point of view some of the cases we have heard about would make both juicy writing and reading.

We haven't had a chance yet to check through all the past files to see how some of the cases were "covered" by The Press. We intend to, however, you can count on that.

—o—

The Press is more than 60 years old and has had an eventful history in itself.

There are a number of people around Campbell who have been loyal subscribers through the up and down years.

Just last week for example, we made the acquaintance of E. R. Kennedy, 61 Catalpa Lane. Mr. Kennedy came into the office to pay his subscription. He mentioned that he had been subscribing to the paper continuously since 1911. He remembers the paper coming to his father's home even before that.

We were pleased to chat with him and to learn more about the community. We wanted to take his picture and interview him more extensively but he stalled us off. He said that he wanted to have a hair cut and be wearing a tie when we snapped him. He promised he would drop in again and we hope he doesn't forget. We, and our camera, will be waiting for him. There are plenty of questions we want to ask.

Both old and new-timers have gone out of their way to make our reception to this community a pleasant one. Everyone has been most helpful in trying to bring us up to date. And, believe us, we appreciate all the help we can get.

Discounting the fact that all people are prejudiced to a certain extent, we feel pretty certain that we have obtained a fair picture of the past and present.

The future, of course, is another story.

We will be around, we hope, for quite some time as this new chapter in the life of Campbell unfolds.

—o—

Because of the nature of our profession we have managed to grasp some knowledge of many fields of endeavor. Newspaper people are often invited to openings, to special showings, and to other activities whereby mingling with the people who are putting on the affair, and being exposed to whatever is taking place at the time some knowledge generally rubs off.

The other night we attended a dinner dance at which the guests were mostly employees of various banks in this area.

We learned a great deal about what goes on behind the cages. We didn't get any help, however on how to balance one's checkbook or how to keep one's outgo from exceeding one's income.

We gathered that bank employees have similar problems. In fact we even heard that banks CAN and apparently do make mistakes on statements, even among the banking fraternity.

The Campbell Gambol

AS OLD SETTLERS DAY is about to be observed for the 64th time in Campbell, there is not much being overlooked by the committee seeking to make of it an outstanding success . . . Sam Reed reporting that 1500 boy scouts of Campbell and Willow Glen will be around for the parade, Sam Cava that ten or more bands will march and that there will be more floats in the parade than ever before. Norman Corvello saying a lot of square dance groups and two of the best known callers of the bay area are coming with probably 400 dancers on the Hunt Cannery building floor at one time, Herb Shadle already lists names and addresses of 135 people who settled in Campbell forty years or more ago and who will be invited by the Chamber of Commerce to be at a luncheon in their honor and ride, if they please, in cars provided for them in the parade . . . a great day for Campbell and a celebration that is unique in that it brings together the people, old and new who feel that the Campbell area is the best place for a home, for schools, for friends, for churches, for health, for occupation and any of the other good things of life to be found anywhere else on earth . . . the perpetuation of Old Settlers Day, in new clothing it is true, but with the same spirit of everlastingly apppreciating these qualities.

KIWANIS CLUB founded thirty years ago in Campbell is having its anniversary party on May 5, four of the charter members, Guy Farley, Carl Field, Ralph Hyde and E. R. Kennedy still being active in the club affairs, the former nearing a thirty year perfect attendance record . . . Kiwanis will be host club on April 24 also at annual meeting with Rotary and Lions Clubs, and on May 15 about 75% of the membership will make the annual trip to Kingsburg in Fresno County . . . club has 55 active members and in February secretary Henry Jewell reported 100% attendance.

ALTURAS, where Campbell Police Sergeant Darrell Rachford is to become Chief of Police on the first of April, is familiar country to him in that his uncle, R. M. Sloss is editor and publisher of the Modoc County Record there whom I remember when he was a linotype operator on the Red Bluff Daily News at the time of a fire which swept through the plant and put all their type setting machines out of service for two weeks, my little plant ten miles away with one machine being turned over for their use, 24 hours a day until repairs could be made, Sloss being one of the operators coming to set type, use of the plant being made available as one of the unwritten laws among newsmen to meet an emergency, an action which paid off two years later when the Sacramento River flooded my shop almost completely emersing the linotype so that the News then put out my paper for two weeks and helped salvage type and equipment for setting up a shop in San Carlos, starting me off in business again. Rachford joined the Campbell police force in October 1954 after having served on the police force at the Herlong Army depot near Alturas on the California-Nevada line—Lester E. Lafferty.

Antinette Machado Wins Essay Contest at Camden

Antoinette Machado, sophomore student at Camden High School, won the intra-school essay contest held at Camden High School. The contest was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars on the subject, "America, Beacon of Hope".

Carol Ann Sheel, freshman, took second place in the contest while Nancy Arne and Cathy Weeden, both freshmen, tied for third place.

Nine of the essays, including the three winners, will be submitted to the contest sponsors in competition with those from Campbell High School. Of the nine, three are sophomore entries and six freshmen.

Bank Of America Awards Presented

Four outstanding Campbell students were recently named as the 1956 recipients of Bank of America Achievement Awards in recognition of superior contributions as citibens and scholars.

Selections were made by a faculty committee, with gold cups going to students demonstrating excellence in a major field of study and parchment certificates to those outstanding in special categories. The trophy cup winners are: Glen Cureton, science and math; James Duran, fine arts; Steve Hunter, liberal arts; and Nancy Hertrick, vocational arts.

Cup winners undergo a further selection process to determine those who are to vie in the zonal competition April 26. First place zone winners in each of the four general fields of study qualify automatically for one of the two Northern California final events. They are assured of at least $100 and may receive awards as high as $1000.

The students are chosen on a basis of scholastic attainment, qualities of leadership, tolerance, character, personality, regard for others, and a sense of civic responsibility.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

NOW IS THE TIME

1. You still have time to plant bare root roses and fruit trees. They are cheaper now than when they are growing in containers.

2. If your berries ripened unevenly last year they could have Himalayan Blackberry mites. This can be controlled by spraying now. Your nurseryman will advise you.

3. Dwarf Oranges and Lemons are ideal for small gardens. They also make exceptional tubbed plants.

4. The camellia blooming season is in full swing. Blooming time is a good planting time.

5. Once again it is Dahlia planting time.

Azaleas For Sun And Shade

"Some like it hot, some like it cold", and in this case we're not talking about the porridge of the nursery rhyme but rather Azaleas for in general deciduous Azaleas belong in the sun and evergreen Azaleas in the shade.

Where you plant your Azalea plants is very important, says the California Association of Nurserymen, for deciduous Azaleas in the shade may mildew. Evergreen Azaleas (and they are the most popular) enjoy the shade or a combination of morning sun and afternoon shade depending on the locale they're planted in. Moreover, the various species of Azaleas are suited for different climates.

In the Northern California coastal areas the Indicas, Kurumes, Southern Indians, Rutherford Hybrids, Gable Hybrids and Macranthas, all evergreen, will do well.

Deciduous Azaleas fall into many categories: American Natives, a western species, Asiatic Species, Evergreen-Deciduous types and Hybrid classes and most of them can be grown throughout the state. Of the American native, a western specie, the Rhododendron occidentale or Western Azalea is native to the Santa Cruz mountains, Sierra Nevada mountains or Western California mountains as well as Humboldt and Shasta counties of Northern California.

There are many outstanding varieties in each of these classes, deciduous and evergreen. Of the evergreen Indica, Albert and Elizabeth (pink and white) and Pink Pearl are real leaders. In evergreen Rutherfordianas, Dorothy Gish (coral) and Purity (white) Constance (pink) and in the Southern Indicas, Fielder's white and Formosa (purple) all make excellent plantings.

An outstanding evergreen Gable Hybrid is Purple Splendor and in the new Brooks Hybrids, Redwing and Cardinal are chosen again and again.

Of the hardy evergreen Kurumes, Coral Bells, Firebird and Orchid will add brilliant colors to your garden.

Azaleas, which are a series of the gigantic Rhododendron family, can be planted in the garden as foreground subjects, in raised beds or tubs. If you plan to plant in the garden bed, provide a light, well drained soil containing an abundance of peat moss and leaf mold. Set the Azaleas in the soil no deeper than in the original container for they are surface rooted plants. Mulch during the summer with peat moss or leaf mold, fertilize with an acid type fertilizer in the Spring and keep them moist at all times.

Planted in raised beds, Azaleas do well in pure peat moss on a foundation of wood shavings. In tubs allow space for three or four inches of peat around the root ball and a layer of drainage material in the bottom.

Ornamental Trees For Patio

Here in California, the patio belongs in the gardner's domain. For here, he plants perennials, container plants, vines, bushes and dwarf fruit trees. Trees, however, are sometimes omitted because the gardner feels the large size would crowd the area.

There are many small ornamental trees which in their natural size will work into the patio layout without crowding the scene. Three such trees are the Loquat, with its extra bonus of delicious fruit and the Crape Myrtles and Flowering Crabapples.

Especially suited to the hot summer days in the valleys of California, the Crape Myrtle (Lagerstroemia indica) makes a fine small tree for the patio. Plant it against the wall or fence in a corner. The Crape Myrtle varieties bloom in pink, watermelon red, white, lavender-blue and rosy red and reach from eight to twenty feet in height.

Fruit on the Loquat (Eriobotrya japonica) ripens early in June, yellow to orange in color, pear shaped and about the size of a small hen egg. Most generally planted varieties are Advance and Champagne, which do well in the inland valleys, and Gold Nugget, which is better planted in the coastal areas.

Campbell School District Offers Unique Program for Blind Children

Editor's Note: The following news story, which describes the special program for the blind children in the Campbell Union School District, was written by Isabelle Pechin, The Press correspondent for San Tomas and Quito, in conjunction with Mrs. Florence Gilmore, Braille teacher, in the district.

Campbell Union School District, widely known in education circles as one of the best in the nation, offers special services to all its children as needed. One of these is an "integrated program" for blind children. The law defines this as bilateral vision of not more than 20/200. Such a child is eligible for state aid.

Program at Quito

Quito School, where Mrs. Dorothy Sutter is principal, offers education for children from kindergarten through sixth grade. A blind child who attends school here is enrolled in the regular classroom.

For example, a second grade blind boy living near Quito, may walk to school with his neighbors and playmates. He reports to the second grade classroom at nine. There his teacher gives him his assignments as she does the other children. Mrs. Florence Gilmore, the Braille teacher, has typed his copy of this work in braille.

For the first hour the boy works with his classmates. During part of this time his reading group comes to the reading circle with the teacher. Each child brings his reader; th eblind boy brings his braille copy. After the ten o'clock recess, he goes to the "resource room" for help in arithmetic and spelling. He learns to set up problems on the braille writer and practices reading and writing his spelling words in braille.

After the eleven o'clock recess the boy returns to the second grade classroom, taking his braille writer. His teacher asks all of the children to write their spelling words as she pronounces them. The blind boy uses his braille writer for this, while the other children use their pencils and paper.

In the afternoon he remains with the second grade classroom. When school is dismissed he goes home with his playmates. If he lives more than a mile from school he travels on the familiar big yellow bus. If he lives in another district his transportation is provided by the district of his residence.

The district where the child lives helps to pay for his education in this program. Children may attend from a wide area; some come from as far away as Alum Rock and Santa Clara. Letters of application are received from many parts of the country.

Like other special services, the resource room is conducted with consideration for the child's needs and with equal consideration for economy. The district administration believes it is true economy to educate handicapped children so that they may be able to earn their own living instead of becoming objects of charity. They believe, also, that it is better for the blind child to live with his family during these years in which his personality, attitude and work habits are developing.

Better For All

In addition, this type of public school education is much less expensive to all of the taxpayers than sending the child to an institution. Special education programs, such as the one that the Campbell district offers, are increasing all over the country. This is especially true in California. Currently, there are 14 programs and twice as many blind children attending public schools as there are enrolled in state-supported institutions.

Before Quito School opened in 1952, the blind children of the area attended the Campbell Grammar School. Seventh and Eighth grade children still attend school there.

Campbell High School became a participant in this program two years ago. Now this area can offer education to blind children from kindergarten through high school.

Fred Sinclair is the "resource teacher" for both the Campbell Grammar and Campbell High School. In addition, he offers a class in Braille at the high school each Monday night. This class is sponsored by the adult education department and meets from 7:00 P. M. to 10:00 P. M.

Anyone interested in learning to read or write braille is invited to enroll in the class. Because of the need for brailled educational material, public participation in this class is encouraged highly and appreciated greatly by those who work with blind children in the schools.

Camden Classes Elect Officers

Bill Murphy will head the freshman class and Alice Burton, the sophomores, as a result of the recent class elections held at Camden High School. The elections were conducted in administrative classes with the frosh voting in the orientation classes and the sophs in English 2.

Dennis Randazzo was elected freshman vice-president with Judy Sayer as secretary and Ted Kunich as treasurer.

Barbara Duncan is the new vice-president of the sophomore class with Judy Anderson as secretary and Charles Renard as treasurer

Class cabinet meeting will be conducted by the newly elected officers with the addition of one representative and one alternate elected from each administrative class. The cabinet will plan the activities for the classes for the remainder of the semester.

Dimes Campaign In County Falls Short of Goal

Santa Clara County's 1956 March of Dimes campaign, which will officially come to an end on March 31, is still some $5,000 short of its vitally-needed goal of $150,000, it was announced this week by Robert J. Simmons, general chairman.

"There have been 21 new cases of polio in this county since January 1, many of which will require March of Dimes financial assistance," said Simmons. "These people, along with the more than 200 residents of Santa Clara County who were stricken prior to 1956 and who received offers of help from the local polio chapter in 1955, realize only too well that polio isn't licked yet."

Close to $145,000 has been totaled so far in the continuing fight against infantile paralysis, according to Simmons, and the mop-up of the annual fund-raising drive will continue through this month. Monies contributed are used for patient care and rehabilitation, research and professional education.

Simmons urged all citizens who have not as yet responded to do so immediately. Contributions can be mailed to the March of Dimes, San Jose.

Bicycle Riders Get Involved in Many Accidents

Bicycles riders are involved in ten traffic accidents each day says the California Highway Patrol.

"This fact was taken from our file of accident records which also indicates failure to obey the rules as the leading cause of traffic accidents involving bicycles," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell declared. "Frequently, when a bicycle rider disobeys the rules or takes chances, he comes into violent contact with an automobile or other motor vehicle.

"When a 90 pound bicycle meets a 3000 pound mass of metal the bicycle rider always loses," Caldwell said. "To avoid accidents and secure more pleasure from bicycle riding the following rules should be obeyed:

1. Keep to the right—always ride with traffic.
2. Obey all traffic signs and signals.
3. Use a white light in front and a red light or reflector in the rear when riding after dark.
4. Wear some article of white clothing at night.
5. Ride single file and only one person on each bike.
6. Keep your bicycle in good mechanical condition.
7. Do your stunting off the streets and highways.
